Case Study - CES 2013

Give your message added impact!

Customer objective - Promote and showcase new Parrot products

Production - 7 free-standing double-sided light boxes measuring 50" x 95" and 2 single-sided light box measuring 185" x 141" built into the structure using woodworking techniques.

Results - The messages grab the visitors' attention and the highlighted products + light boxes enhance the booth's appearance.

+ Place your light boxes in areas of foot traffic

+ LED light boxes with low energy consumption

+ Add impact with large-format graphics

Custom booths

Case Study - Euroshop 2011

Capitalize on the power of the image!

Customer objective - Demonstrate how strong images and graphic creativity give a booth its impact.

Production - Graphic effects made from uninterrupted wood and concrete textures immerse the exhibitors in an ultra-realistic environment. The curved lines soften the hardness of the concrete.

Results - The perception of the exhibitors changed: a fabric booth is just as solid as a conventional booth and delivers more visual impact.

✦ The furniture continues into the graphics: creates a "Truman Show" effect"

✦ 16' tower: increased visibility at controlled costs (vs. hanging signs)

✦ The message should be simple and visible, just like an advertisement!

Case Study - Viscom Paris 2014

Create a warm, inviting environment

Customer objective - Design the office of the future

Production - One arch with a canopy that is entirely lit, 20' x 20'. Made of three panoramic light boxes, the ceiling is supported by each side of the arch.

Results - The even, indirect lighting from the ceiling creates a unique atmosphere. Your visitors feel completely at ease within this space.

+ Make your visitors feel comfortable and invite them into your world

+ Continue your message on the floor with printed carpet.

+ No visible demarcation between the light boxes

Case Study - Viscom Paris 2014

Adapt to any location

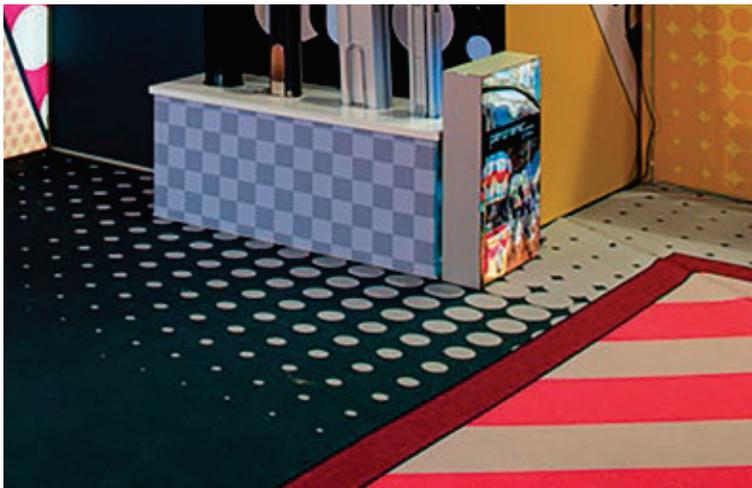

Customer objective - Turn a location constraint into an asset. Be seen from far away while taking into account a 44" x 57" column at the location.

Production - The column is concealed within a 8' x 7' storage space. At 13 feet tall, it allows for increased visibility. The welcome desk is replaced by a 118" long wooden table and allows visitors to be greeted in a friendly manner.

Results - A high-impact, functional booth with excellent visibility!

+ Panoramic Lightbox integrates perfectly into your booth!

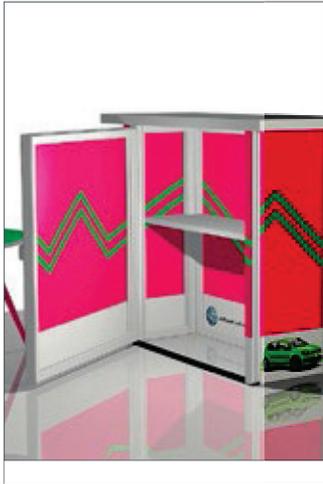

+ Create distinct areas in your booth using the printed carpet

+ Integrate woodworked elements
